Elders Ordained.

At the Third Presbyterlan Church last Bunday an event occurred of much interest to the large congregation there assembled. Previous to the sermon Rev. Dr. R. B. Eggleston, the pastor, announced that three elders would be ordained-Mr. John Hunter, Mr. Flerce and Stanley Reid. The remarks by the pastor were especially solemn, charging the elders with the grave responsibilities of their official duties in matters of church government. His reference to the first named elder, who has attained the age of eighty years, was touched with much feeling.

Smaller labor unions throughout the country were charged with graftins, forgery and threatening employers with strikes and boycotts in getting out souvenir books for labor day and other occasions. Many of the leading delegates to the convention, including President Samuel Gompers, talket on the question, and while the names of the labor unions angainst which the charges were made were not uncovered, labor leaders in almost every city were accused of the practice. A resolution was offered and adopted condemning the issuing of souvenir books by the labor unions.

One of the delegates accused those having charge of the "Federationist." the official organ of the Federation, and applying the same methods, but a vigorous denial was made by President Gompers, who is editor of the paper. He said that the "Federationist" never got out souvenirs, and challenged any of the delegates to expose any corruption in connection with the publication of the paper.

The strike flasco and the passing of the Polish crisis have certainly temporarily strengh-Practically all danger of the necessity for dealing with an armed uprisnig in Poland is regarded as over and martial law will probably be abolished at the end of the week. The immediate ques-tion confronting the cabinet is the elecoral law, Premier Witte and his coileagues have almost reached the conclusion to base the elections practically on universal suffrage.

A member of the cabinet who may be considered to reflect the volws of the premer said to-day;

"The extreme wing of the intelligent Liberals still insists on lighting a wind-mill when they express fears of a return to the old regime. That has passed forever. The emperor's step is irrevocable. The reports that his resolution has been shaken are absolutely without foundation. Nevertheless the country must be saved from anarchy and strong measures like those instituted at Chernigoff, Suratoff, Samboff and Penza must be taken where the occasion arises. Neither in Russia, nor abroad need there he the slightest fears that th government desires to retrace its steps."

Speaking of the Jewish question, the member of the cabinet said; "For the cabinet there exist no Jewish question, it is not what should be done, but how to do it. We are absolutely of one mind that all the restrictions on the Jews should be abolished, but for the government to decree equality without action on the part of the Douma would be full of danger. The prejudice against the Jews among the important classes of Russia is not fancied. It is deplorable but true that people under the old regime were saturated with the idea that the Jews were their oppressors. If the Jews were fraired can'd rights with Russians the latter would accept it as confirmation of the suspicions they already harbor on account of recent developments that the emperor has been betrayed and nothing the central government could do would prevent the most frightful massacres."

Estimates as to the showing of the report had averaged close to eight million bales, and when the actual figures were published the rush to huy followed.

New high records for the season were soon made. The confusion was so great that different prices were being quoted at the same time at different points around the ring, and in some timances there were gains of 10 to 20 points between sales. Before the advance was checked March soid at 11.78 and May at 11.75 or 110 to 120 points above the low level of yesterday, and about ten to twenty points above the previous high level of the season on November 10th. Around these figures there was heavy realizing, and prices eased off about twenty points from the top, but showed continued excitement and nervousness.

The market continued very active and the close was officially described as excited and irregular at a net advance of 79 to $3 points. Total sales were estimated at 800,000 bales, of which fully 700,000 bales were traded in during the last hour.

SHIP CONVERSE LIMPS INTO PORT

Wind and Sea Battered Lumber-Laden Schooner Without

Mercy. (By Associated Press.)

NORFOLK, VA., November 21,—The three-masted schooner William W. Converse, lumber-laden, from Port Royal to New York, was towed into Norfolk harbor late to-night by the steamer Rescue, of the Merritt & Chapman Wrecking Company, with all hor sails gone, her cyew exhausted and water pouring through strained seams at the rate of one foot an hour.

The story of the saving of the Co verse is the most thrilling in this year's events along the Virginia-Carolina coast. From the time the vessel left Port Royal until she came to anchor yesterday afteruntil she came to anchor yesterday afternoon, four miles off Dam Nock Mills life saving station, heavy seas and adverse winds had held her at their mercy.
All the way up the coast she had battied with them. First almost all of her deck load was carried away, and then one sail after another went by the board.
Her steering gear became injured and she rolled in the trough of the sea, while hig waves crashed over her. The studin was so great that her sides began to open and the water poured into her hold.
When Dam Neck Mills were signted Capuain Williams anchored and signalled for help. Norfolk was advised of the vessel's plight and the Rezcue put out to the scene.

Such a rough sea was running it was difficult for the wreckers to approach near enough to make a line fast to the schooner. In one attempt a seaman on the Rescue feil overboard and was saved from drowning only by the heroic work of a shipmato who ran out on the point of the bow and threw a life line with accuracy to the man in the water. After a hard struggle against the wind and soa the Converse was taken in tow and passed in the capes with the Rescue at 7 o'clock to-night, reaching Norfolk harbor after 11. She is in bad condition and may have to be beached. Such it rough sea was running it was
